Baldwin Manufacturing Company began its life in the Elk Forge Mill at the bottom of the hill in the 1890's. The father of the present owner of Elk Forge rented the building to them but, they moved shortly thereafter, retaining the Baldwin name. They have been in operation since that break from the Elk Forge Mill. The building is constructed of local sandstone covered with stucco. Above the windows are segmental arches of brick. A clerestory lights the interior of most of the buildings. The mill is located on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the town of Elk Mills, Maryland, which used to be called Baldwin Post Office. Kesco Textile Co., Inc.
